Applications boom, admit rates plummet: Prestige college admissions get a little crazier in the pandemic

New test-optional policies drive eye-popping statistics

People walk about in front of Widener Library at Harvard University in Cambridge, Mass., in 2019. (Steven Senne/AP)

By Nick Anderson

April 7, 2021 at 9:00 a.m. CDT

The chase for the Ivy League and other prestige colleges, a perennial object of global fascination, grew a few degrees more frenzied during the coronavirus pandemic as applications soared and acceptance rates plummeted to, in some cases, crazy-low single digits.

Everyone figured the acceptance shares would get even more microscopic. And they did.

SCHOOL	APPLICATIONS	ADMIT RATE %	ADMIT RATE 2020*
Brown University	46,568	5.4	6.9
Columbia University	60,551	3.7	6.1
Cornell University	not yet available	n/a	n/a
Dartmouth College	28,357	6.2	8.8
Harvard University	57,435	3.4	4.9
Princeton University	37,601	4.0	5.6
University of Pennsylvania	56,333	5.7	8.1
Yale University	46,905	4.6	6.5

(The 2020 rates in this chart come from preliminary releases at a comparable point in the cycle.)

First, schools aren't done making offers. They could (and some probably will) pull often from wait lists in this highly unpredictable year. Second, many students applied to several highly selective colleges, so there was significant overlap among applicants and admitted students.

Third, and perhaps most important, these and other ultracompetitive schools represent only a tiny sliver of higher education in the United States. Many colleges, public and private, offer excellent value with a lot less admission angst.

yeah, anyone else sad

Fluff

My name is Blake. I'm a senior who just got all of his decisions back for 2021. I don't normally cry, but today I cried. I was rejected from every single one of my schools except my two safeties. When I opened my USC letter today I just stared at the word "sorry" for five minutes before the reality actually hit me in the face. I had a 1500 sat with a 4.0 at an all IB school, but I applied CS to mostly top universities.

My entire family goes to UT Austin. Both my brothers are students there, my parents are graduates, and my grandpa is a professor. I was rejected. The only school I didn't get rejected from was Georgia tech, which I was waitlisted at.

I'm sure there are many reasons for my application being rejected, but it's still incredibly painful. Earlier today I talked with a friend who got into incredible schools, including a scholarship to USC, and it just made me feel worthless.

If anyone else has had a rough time with rejections, just know you are not alone.

Students Struggle but Don't Seek Colleges' Help

While students are still reporting COVID-19 mental health challenges, they are generally not taking advantage of counseling center services. As the following 12 ideas show, even centers strapped for resources can strive for better supports, both now and post-pandemic.

By Melissa Ezarik // April 14, 2021

GRAFXART8888/ISTOCK/GETTY IMAGES PLUS

However, the latest Student Voice survey, conducted by Inside Higher Ed and College Pulse and presented by Kaplan, indicates that a year into the pandemic:

- 65 percent of students report having fair or poor mental health.
- 63 percent of those who say it's poor would grade their college's response to student mental health and wellness services a C or lower (compared to 43 percent of all students).
- 47 percent say they could have used some (28 percent) or a lot (19 percent) more support from their college during this time.
- Only 15 percent engaged in college-offered counseling in the past year.

"This should be a wake-up call. Even if it feels like we are starting to move back into a normal phase, students are still suffering," says Lisa Sontag-Padilla, a behavioral and social scientist at the nonprofit RAND Corporation who has written on helping college students manage COVID's mental health impacts.

As vaccinations continue, colleges and universities announce plans for more in-person instruction this fall.

By Lilah Burke // February 19, 2021

WIKIMEDIA COMMONS

Rutgers University

At some public institutions, conditions might vary throughout a system. For example, the California State University system has announced an intention to bring students back in person next fall. (The behemoth -- which enrolls nearly half a million students -- has been one of the most prominent to remain nearly fully online these past six months.) But leaders at its Chico State University campus say they're going to stick with a mostly online model. Only 20 to 30 percent of classes will have some face-to-face component.

Some university leaders have been careful to not make any promises about how much instruction will be in person.

Experts predict that despite falling case rates and the introduction of vaccines, the COVID-19 pandemic will be with us for months. While estimates vary, some scientists do not predict a return to the pre-2020 way of life within the next two years. What at first seemed like a matter of weeks has turned into a long haul.

While "normal" (if it ever returns) may still be far off, college administrations are now saying that in fall of 2021, they'll get as close as they can. More in-person instruction and more students on campus are the dominant themes of announcements about the upcoming term.

"Make no mistake, vaccination is the game-changer," Antonio Calcado, executive vice president and chief operating officer of Rutgers University, said in a video statement. "Our fall of '21 will look completely different."

Orientation 2021

Orientation will help you connect, both virtually and in-person, with the people and resources that will help you get off to a great start on the Heights.

Given the ongoing circumstances surrounding the COVID-19 pandemic, Orientation 2021 will be offered as a combination of virtual content delivered throughout June and July, and on-campus programming taking place the week prior to the start of fall classes. This hybrid approach will provide entering students with multiple opportunities to connect with fellow members of the Class of 2025, junior and senior mentors, faculty, and administrators, all while preparing for the intellectual, social, and spiritual dimensions of life at Boston College.

In late March, Orientation registration will become available to new students after they enroll. Please note that the Orientation tab may take up to twenty minutes to appear on the Applicant Status Portal after enrollment is confirmed. Students who have been admitted via Early Decision will be notified via email when Orientation registration opens. The deadline for Orientation registration is May 1, 2021.

Student Email

As a means of enhancing communication, students receive an UH email alias to be used for all official electronic correspondence. The email alias is a pointer that directs email messages to a destination email account. Per the UH student email policy, the University uses the UH email alias to send important information such as emergency closings or any official information. Current students, staff and faculty are eligible to receive an email exchange account, if they currently do not already have one. Students must ensure that the UH email alias points to a working email address at all times. Students may update their email address information by logging on to AccessUH and going to myUH.

#12 KNOW THESE ROOMMATE RULES

RULE #1: Roommates who want to get along will find a way to get along.

RULE #2: Roommates aren't required to be friends (friendship is a bonus).

Rule #3: Follow the uncomfortable rule. The uncomfortable rule means you and your roommate agree to share what makes you uncomfortable within 24/48 hours of the problem. You do it face-to-face; not a text, not on Instagram, not on Snapchat.

- Avoiding living with a close friend your first year
- Look into Living and Learning Communities (LLC)

#13 KNOW THESE RELATIONSHIP RULES

- I. Have a life independent of your significant other
- II. Stay on campus on the weekends (as much as possible)
- III. DO NOT restrict your significant other or be restricted
- IV. Meet other people and for friendships with other people
- IV. Learn to be happy while apart and you'll be happier together

#14 ASK, BUDGET, WORK

- ▶ See if you can get more money
- ▶ Put together a budget (download Mint)
- ▶ Investigate jobs (might change due to COVID)
- ▶ Plan for hidden costs (food, dues, fees, travel, etc)
- ▶ Talk to juniors and seniors to find the money
- ▶ Know how much your loans will REALLY cost
- ▶ Graduate on time or early
- ▶ Go to meetings with FREE FOOD!!!

The Benefits of Working on Campus

Want to make money, build new relationships, and create life-changing experiences in college? Work on campus. Getting a job should be required to graduate. College jobs help you discover what you love, and more importantly, what you don't love. They give you real world experience you can't get inside the classroom. Oh, and you can make money too. Lots of it. I asked students (past and present) to share their best college jobs.

Here are some of the highlights to help you pinpoint the best job for you.

Work-Study Jobs

Federal work-study provides part-time jobs for students with financial need. These jobs can be more flexible and have student friendly hours. If you're eligible (see your financial aid award letter), you'll need to apply for these jobs. Work-study jobs can have you working in academic offices related to your major, hosting campus tours, working the info desk, serving in the cafeteria, life guarding in the rec center, or doing

#15 HAVE RULES FOR GOING OUT

Rules will help you make safe choices and set boundaries. People who don't respect your rules are not people you need in your life. If you want to avoid parties, schedule jobs, activities, and obligations that will give you a place to go at night.

—————→ Going out

#17 TELL YOUR STORY AS IF IT HAS ALREADY HAPPENED...

It's May 2022,
Here's what happened this year in college...

Tell Your Story As If...

It's May 1, 2022 and I had the most incredible year! I reached my goals and accomplished (Fill in Outcome). The most challenging part was (Fill In). I got through it by leaning on (Person #1), (Person #2), and (Person #3) for answers and support. I found people to help me find answers at (Place #1), (Place #2), and (Place #3). It took me (Fill in Time) to get where I wanted to go. I'm so grateful and proud of myself and my accomplishments.

Relax.

Have fun.

Enjoy every minute.

Your job is simple:

Be your personal best,

Meet lots of people,

Make new friends,

Make smart decisions,

Possibly find a career,

Possibly find love,

And take risk after risk after risk so that you can figure out what you love and what you don't love. Expect that all the risks you take will not always go as planned. Many will, but not all. When a risk doesn't go as planned, don't go on the attack, don't give up and hide—look inward, look outward, and move forward. Find your people. Find your places. Be patient. Do this and you'll leave college with more than a degree. You'll leave knowing what it takes for you to be happy. And really, what more could you possibly want out of your life in college?
